Refugee integration is the topic of the 2017 University of San Francisco for Freedom Symposium. It presents the best practice of Centro Astalli, a well-known organization of Jesuit Refugee Service Italy engaged in hospitality and integration of refugee in Europe. The panel features San Francisco's Bay Area organizations engaged in refugee resettlement and forced migrants integration. The event is organized by the Academic Global Immersion Graduate Students who participated in the Academic Global Immersion in Rome, Italy studying Refugee Service and Humanitarian Emergency Management. The AGI-Rome is a Program of the University of San Francisco's School of Management and Master of Nonprofit Administration in partnership with Jesuit Refugee Service, Centro Astalli, and the United Nations Refugee Agency UNHCR Italy.
