Venue : Plug and Play Tech Center

Location : 440 Wolfe Road US,
Sunnyvale , CA, USA, ZIP: 94085

Our AgTech week culminates on April 6th at our second annual AgTech conference: "The Seeds of Our Future: AgTech and the Connected World" to be held at Plug and Play Tech Center in Sunnyvale, CA. Our expert panelists and speakers will discuss the changes, challenges, and opportunities taking place in the global AgTech community, and examine innovations in agriculture from all over the world. The conference is an amazing opportunity to learn what's going on on the other side of the globe, as well as right in your own backyard.

The conference is the culminating event in our companion AgTech Immersion Program, which will be held from April 3rd-5th, 2017. For tickets and more information on the Immersion Program, visit bit.ly/AgSV17. note: if you have purchased a pass for the four-day immersion program, you do NOT need to purchase a separate conference ticket - your admission is already included.

For speaking and/or sponsorship opportunities, please contact Klaus Wehage, Head of International Relations: klaus@siliconvalleyforum.com
