AI DevWorld 2019 (October 8-10, San Jose Convention Center) is the world's largest Artificial Intelligence, Machine Learning & Data Science developer conference, with tracks covering:

Artificial Intelligence & Machine Learning Development;
Training Data, Models & Feasibility;
TensorFlow & Open Source;
AI for the Enterprise;
Applying Machine Learning to the Enterprise;
AI & Machine Learning-as-a-Service;
Deep AI/Neural Networks;
Bots, Language Processing & Conversational AI;
...and more.

The conference targets software engineers and data scientists who are looking for an introduction to AI, as well as AI & ML professionals looking for a landscape view on best practices, practical applications, and the newest AI technologies.

AI technologies are the most potentially disruptive technologies facing the world -- and the real breakthroughs in AI come from AI and machine learning developer technologies. Behind self-driving cars, facial recognition, healthcare AI analytics, and customer targeting -- there is a new AI developer technology. AI DevWorld 2019 is the hub for the newest breakthroughs in AI, Machine Learning & Data Science developer technologies.

AI DevWorld 2019 is co-located with API World 2019, the world's largest API & Microservices event.
